

The background of the cover is a dark, atmospheric illustration of a gothic-style interior. In the center, a wooden chessboard lies on a stone floor, surrounded by scattered red rose petals. A large, ornate white chess piece, possibly a king, lies overturned on the board, with a large, dark red bloodstain splattered around it. Several other chess pieces are visible on the board. In the background, there are arched doorways and several lit lanterns that cast a warm, yellowish glow, contrasting with the dark surroundings.
